Small Crowd Present as Giants Return to Home Park to Battle Yanks in Series Thriller Under Cloudy Skies.

GOMEZ, FITZSIMMONS

Yankee Erratic but Fast Southpaw To Oppose National League Right Hander.

By ALAN GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor.
Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Returning to the field where the World Series combatants played through successive downpours of rain and basehits, the Giants dug into their home trenches today for another stand against the power attack of the New York Yankees.

Needing only one more game to lift the big prize, the Yankees assigned their fast but erratic southpaw, Vernon Gomez, to oppose Freddy Fitzsimmons, stout-hearted right-hander of the National League champions. Victory for the Giants would extend the series to the limit of seven games.

Skies clouded and it looked threatening as the field was cleared for the sixth chapter of baseball's latest series thriller.

The crowd was disappointingly small and undoubtedly at the low point of the series. It appeared no more than 35,000 spectators were in the stand when Al Schacht put on his pre-game comedy, while workmen smoothed out the infield, and the umpires conferred with rival captains.

The batting order:

Yankees
Crossetti, 3b
Rolf, ss
Dimaggio, cf
Gehrig, 1b
Dickey, c
Selkirk, rf
Powell, lf
Lazzeri, 2b
Gomez, p

The Giants romped out on the field after the crowd stood while the band played the national anthem.

First Inning

Crossetti popped to Whitehead behind second base.

Rolf grounded out on the first pitch to Terry, who made the put-out unassisted.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Bartell walked with the count three and two.

Terry sacrificed, Rolf to Gehrig. Moore advanced to third and Bartell to second.

With the Yankees infield playing close to the grass, Leiber walked on four straight balls and the bases were filled.

With the count three and two Ott hit sharply down the right field line for a double, scoring Moore and Bartell. Leiber scored at third.

It was the first time that Ott had driven in any runs since the series started.

Mancuso fouled to Rolf, who made a running catch a few feet in front of the box seats.

Whitehead grounded out sharply on the first pitch. Lazzeri to Gehrig. Two runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

Second Inning

Selkirk, after three balls and fouling a couple, slammed a triple into the Giants' bullpen in right center with the count three and two.

With the count three and one, Powell smashed a home run into the upper left field stands, scoring behind Selkirk with the tying run.

Lazzeri bounced a single past Jackson.

Gomez bounced to Fitzsimmons who made a pretty glove-hand stop and tossed to Terry for the putout.

Two runs, three hits, no errors, one left.

Jackson ran the count to two and two, then bounced a single through the box.

Fitzsimmons flied to Selkirk. Moore hoisted to Powell.

Bartell walked with the count three and one.

Terry lifted to Dimaggio.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Third Inning—Crossetti fanned, swinging with the count three and two.

Rolf singled sharply over Bartell's head.

With Dimaggio at bat, both Fitzsimmons and Mancuso tried to catch Rolf off first.

Dimaggio then singled and sent Rolf to third.

Gehrig flied to Ott and Rolf scored easily after the catch. There was no play at the plate as Ott threw to second to hold Dimaggio.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Leiber fouled to Dickey.

Ott was thrown out on a hopper that carried off Gomez's glove to

Bleakley Carries Battle Westward Into State Today

Warsaw, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP)—Justice William F. Bleakley, Republican candidate for governor, carried his campaign into western New York today after assailing the Works Progress Administration as "100 per cent political."

The G. O. P. nominee attacked the WPA in a radio address from New York city last night. Appearing later at a Republican rally at East Norwich, Nassau county, he criticized Governor Lehman's fiscal record and declared that if elected, he would see that New York got "a fair proportion of federal money to the amount paid in by the state."

Justice Bleakley's visit to this Wyoming county village opened an upstate tour that will take him into nearly 50 communities in the next three weeks.

Except for another rally into the metropolitan area next Friday, principally to share the stage at a party rally in Brooklyn with Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice presidential candidate, the Yonkers jurist will devote all his time between now and October 24 in upstate territory.

In terms of the present WPA "100 per cent political," Bleakley pledged that, if elected, he would see to it that "those in need in this state shall receive relief without regard to color, creed or political affiliations."

"The cost of administration shall bear reasonable relation to the amount of relief expenditures," he said, "and no one will be fattening themselves at the relief crib, while thousands of men and women in this state who have been certified for relief are not receiving it."

The nominee said the state WPA administrator "has definitely refused access or inspection of public records, which would reveal the salary lists of political favorites and disclose the cost of administration in this state."

Demands Open Hearings

Washington, Oct. 6 (AP)—Submitting copies of three affidavits alleging political coercion by WPA superiors in Pennsylvania, the Republican national committee today demanded open hearings by the Senate campaign funds investigating committee.

"If the New Deal is not guilty," said a memorandum sent to Chairman Loperan (D-Conn.), "clear it in open hearings. If it is guilty, use the weight of the United States Senate to suppress political delinquency. Use it before the votes are stolen."

Burgos, Spain, Oct. 6—Insurgent commanders, inspired by reports of fresh victories in the bloody civil war against Socialists, marshaled 150,000 disciplined troops today for a march on Madrid.

The decisive assault on the capital, Fascist headquarters announced, would be led by General Francisco Franco, head of the insurgent provisional government.

The drive was set to begin as soon as present operations to tighten the insurgent lines and effect junctions of marching columns may be completed.

Fascist headquarters claimed these developments on the 30th day of the devastating conflict.

Advance of insurgent troops to within six miles of the government-controlled railroad between Madrid and Valencia near Torrijon De La Calzada.

30 Trucks Taken
Capture of 30 Socialist trucks near Alcala La Real, far to the south in Granada province.

Repelling of a government attack on Huesca, provincial capital in the northeast, with 40 Socialist militiamen killed in the encounter.

Defeat of driving government forces in the Bargas sector, 5 miles north of Toledo, in a sharp encounter in which insurgent bullets cut down 100 Socialist soldiers.

Dispatch of a strong motorized column to reinforce troops marching to assistance of besieged Fascists at Oryedo, rebel stronghold in the north.

Destruction of four government planes by Fascist anti-aircraft guns near Toledo.

Insurgent fliers who landed at Torrijos, held base on the Maqueda-Toledo highway, reported they rained bombs on the airport at Getafe, eight miles south of Madrid.

Destroy Planes
(Although results of the aerial assault were not determined, the fliers said they believed many government planes had been destroyed in the attack.)

(Insurgent commanders at Torrijos were informed of the capture of a government block house near Huesca, 22 miles south of Madrid. The successful attack was followed by an infantry advance, the reports declared.)

General Franco, busily engaged in mapping campaign plans, continued organization of the provisional Fascist government which he heads.

New Officials
He appointed the following officials: General Fidel Davila, president of the military junta with duties similar to those of a premier.

Gen. Gil Yuste, secretary of war. Francisco Serrat, foreign minister. Nicolas Franco Bahamonde, the generalissimo's elder brother, secretary-general to the junta.

Gen. Francisco Fermano, governor-general of provinces occupied by the Fascists.

Headed Franco-Spanish Border
Oct. 6 (AP)—Reliable advices brought here by refugees from Madrid, today stated the Spanish capital's "execution squads" had killed well over 3,000 middle and upper class citizens.

The executions even have increased, the advices said, since Francisco Largo Caballero became premier little more than a month ago.

Bands of "bloodthirsty young murderers," the refugees said, are responsible for the executions. The travelers described the death squads as the Spanish counterpart of the French "Sans-Culottes" of 1793, who, with bloodsoaked tumbrils, daily fed "Madame Guillotine" with aristocrats.

DOCTOR IS ILL AFTER TASTING WHITE POWDER
Flemington, N. J., Oct. 6 (AP)—Dr. Abraham Garbinkel, who tasted some white powder from a box in the pocket of a man who died in a Hunterdon county jail cell, was under treatment at his home today.

The physician, seeking to identify the powder, collapsed yesterday after placing a few grains on his tongue. He was treated by other physicians and put to bed in the warden's quarters at the jail for five hours before returning to his home.

County Physician George Henry said the man who died, described as John R. Hubbell, 44-year-old broker of New Garden, N. J., was a suicide by poison. Dr. Henry performed an autopsy and sent Hubbell's vital organs to the Greenstone Park State Hospital for further examination.

Hubbell died shortly after he was returned to jail following his arrestment on indictments alleging embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses in stock transactions. He had pleaded innocent to the charges.

The Rev. W. F. Stowe Resigns His Pastorate At Church of Comforter

Minister Finds Ill-Health Makes It Necessary for Him To Leave Charge Which He Has Filled for 22 Years.

CLASSIS ACCEPTS

The Church Has Grown Greatly Since Mr. Stowe Assumed Leadership in 1914.

At the meeting of the minister and the consistory of the Reformed Church of The Comforter held Monday evening, September 28, in the parsonage on Wynkoop Place, the Rev. Wilbur F. Stowe presented his resignation as pastor of the church, and his request that the consistory join him in asking the Classis of Ulster to release him from the pastoral relation.

It was a step that Mr. Stowe found exceedingly hard to take, for he had for many years continued to find the ties of Christian affection binding his charge to him. But owing to ill health and the growing demands of the field he felt he should stop from this official relation.

The consistory as regretfully yielded to the pastor's wishes, and voted to ask for the dissolution of the pastorate. On November 1 it will have been 22 years since Mr. Stowe began his work in this church.

The Classis today accepted Mr. Stowe's request, effective October 31. The Rev. J. B. Steketee was named supervisor of the consistory, the nomination to take effect November 1, and to continue until a new pastor is supplied.

Mr. Stowe has been pastor at the Church of the Comforter for 22 years, having succeeded the Rev. Charles L. Palmer. During his pastorate the membership of the church increased almost 700 members, and the tempo of church activities doubled.

Various adult and youth organizations were formed and in 1924 the large parish hall was erected, providing for increased social activities and allowing an athletic outlet.

Comforter basketball and baseball teams have proved outstanding competitors in civic circles. Flower shows, minstrels and church suppers have been held in the new hall and the affairs have been of such a quality as to have drawn all creeds and classes. Prior to the erection of the parish hall all group activities were held in the church basement.

Among other important changes which have been effected, have been the renovation of the parsonage, installation of new heating systems in both the church and the parsonage; and within the church proper has been added a beautiful pipe organ. There is a volunteer mixed choir of 21 voices.

Prior to accepting the pastorate at the Church of the Comforter Mr. Stowe had held charges in several Methodist institutions and had served Congregational churches in Maine for four or five years; had been pastor of the Saugerties Congregational Church for 10 years, and had served at Susquehanna, Pa., for three years.

It is with deep regret that members of the congregation and the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Stowe accept the fact that Mr. Stowe has been compelled to resign, for both have made innumerable friends throughout the city. They are residing now at 142 Clinton avenue.

For a period of two or three months various supplies will continue the parish business, until a definite appointment is made.

Cabinet Resigns
Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Hungarian cabinet resigned today shortly after the death of Premier Julius Goemboes in Munich.

"TIGER BOY" TAKEN TO CHILDREN'S HOME
Bellingham, Wash., Oct. 6 (AP)—A seven-year-old "tiger boy" who, police said, "seemed pleased" with his attempt to kill a baby with an iron bar ended when he learned he was to be taken from his parents today.

It was the first emotional breakdown of the second-grade schoolboy who had shown no remorse for his almost fatal assault upon 22-month-old Roland Smith.

When the boy, whose name was withheld, learned juvenile authorities were taking him to the Washington State Children's Home at Seattle today for temporary observation, he cried and clung to his parents.

Physicians planned to operate today on the "tiger boy's" victim in an attempt to remove bone pressure on the brain. His skull was fractured in three places.

Police Chief Ralph R. Reed described the detained boy as a "menace because he has caused homicide tendencies."

Reed said the boy told him he had taken out one of the Smith child's shoes intending to "cut his (the baby's) toes off."

Premier Goemboes Dies In Germany, His Cabinet Resigns

Munich, Germany, Oct. 6 (AP)—Premier Julius Goemboes of Hungary died today in a sanitarium at Nymphenburg after a long illness. He was 50 years.

Goemboes, who was suffering from kidney and gall-bladder trouble, entered the sanitarium last month after resigning as minister of war in the Hungarian government.

Goemboes rose to power in 1932 when he formed the first cabinet without a noble since 1867.

He declared his principal task was to build a new soul for the Hungarian nation based on his theory the country had been denied independence for so long it was unable to develop a free spirit.

Opposed to a royal restoration, he began negotiations with Germany and Italy in an attempt to strengthen political and economic relations between the two countries.

His efforts bore first fruit in 1934 when he collaborated with Italian and Austrian representatives in the first "Rome Pact."

This accord, which was modernized and extended last March after new discussions in Rome, established the principle of cooperation between the three central European nations and revised political and economic agreements designed to improve Hungarian prosperity.

As leader of the unity party, he held a strong position in domestic politics.

Republican Presidential Nominee Accuses Hopkins of Shutting Newspapers Off from Public Records.

NEW DEAL AFRAID

Landon Says Administration Fears Revelation of Extravagance and Waste.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 6 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon said today the New Deal was employing a "censorship of the source of news" which he said was "just as bad as the censorship of news" itself.

"Harry L. Hopkins has shut off the source of news," the presidential nominee added to a press conference in reply to questions concerning the WPA administrator's statement that relief records were open "to anybody who has a legitimate reason to see them."

Landon said he thought WPA cost records and payrolls "is a public business and the information should be made available to any newspaper."

"Legitimate Purpose"
"I view newspaper publicity as a legitimate purpose," the Republican candidate said. "All public records, of any kind or description, should be open to the newspapers."

"It doesn't make any difference whether or not it should be during a campaign. Censorship of the source of news is just as bad as censorship of the news."

"That's what we have now," the governor continued in reply to further questions, "censorship of the source of news."

"To what do you account this?" he was asked.

"As I've said already, they're afraid of the waste and extravagance that publicity would reveal," he replied.

Hopkins in his statement yesterday said that a demand by John G. Stutz, Kansas relief director, for figures on WPA administrative costs "is another one of those red herrings."

"The administration seems to be finding a lot of red herrings," Landon said. "It's gone fishing. It's too bad we can't eat them."

In recent year-platform addresses during campaign swings, Landon demanded publicity of WPA payrolls. He said today he had not heard from Washington.

The Republican candidate was asked if he had any comment on the statement of John D. M. Hamilton, national party chairman, calling on President Roosevelt to give "government investigators a free hand to root out the alien agents of Communism in this country."

"I thought I'd get that question," was the governor's only reply.

Attitude Unchanged
The nominee conferred today with a delegation from the National Seaway Council.

"I told them I hadn't changed my attitude on the St. Lawrence seaway," Landon later told reporters. "I'd always been friendly to it—had been committed to it before."

"Were you committed to any special plan?" he was asked.

"No."

"Just committed to the general idea?"

"Yes."

"Did you tell them you would revise the St. Lawrence treaty?"

"No, I didn't."

(A treaty with Canada for the St. Lawrence seaway was submitted to the Senate by President Roosevelt but ratification was refused.)

The seaway delegation included Fred J. Freestone, Interlaken, N. Y., chairman of the council's executive committee and of the National Grange's execution committee; R. F. Mallia, Milwaukee; J. C. Beukema, Muskegon, Mich.; Fred J. Keller, Duluth; A. O. Narvaez, Lubbock, Minn.; R. G. Suter, Washington, D. C.; and Joseph Winterbotham, Jr., Burlington, Vt.

Events Around The Empire State

East Pembroke, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP).—A half day of each month for good attendance has practically wiped out "hooky" among the pupils in the East Pembroke school.

At the opening of school, Principal L. B. Lane decreed a half holiday for those having an attendance record of 98 per cent or better. Last Friday the entire student body—183 boys and girls—knocked off at noon. They had averaged 99.2 per cent for September.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP).—A 55 per cent cut in relief rolls in New York state during the past nine months was credited today by Frederick I. Daniels, state chairman of the Temporary Emergency Relief Administration, to private payroll gains. Reports from 108 welfare districts, he said, show that applications for relief have decreased 45 per cent in New York city while upstate areas have erased 63 per cent of their direct relief cases from the rolls.

"The improved private employment situation has brought about a steady month-by-month increase in the proportion of applicants for whom work can be found or other resources developed," Daniels said.

Owego, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP).—Verda Dodge of South Owego, raised a set of quintuplets on his Tioga county farm and brought them to the Farm Bureau office here to prove it.

Hornell, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP).—Gardner H. Wing had early June peas ripen from his garden, counted the yield sufficient and plowed them under for fertilizer for next year.

Now he's enjoying the second crop from the same planting. The plowed under vines sprouted and thanks to a belated season he's had two messes of peas and more are in prospect if the frost doesn't nip them.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP).—The Bond Clothing Company announced a 5 per cent bonus for 1,700 workers as ground was broken yesterday for a $200,000 factory addition.

The addition will give the plant a capacity of 2,900 employees which would be the largest single clothing unit in the world. Under the bonus plan, each worker will receive about $100, he said.

Swede Hops Away For Stockholm After Purchasing Plane

New York, Oct. 6 (AP).—Facing hazardous weather in a 300-mile stretch off the Newfoundland coast, Kurt Bjorkvall, 31-year-old Swedish aviator, roared eastward in his red and green monoplane, "The Pace-maker," today in a projected non-stop flight to Stockholm.

Bjorkvall lifted his plane from the runways of Floyd Bennett field at 7:35 a. m., eastern standard time, climbed steadily as the ship gathered speed, and 40 minutes later was off the Long Island coast cruising at about 100 miles an hour.

On the ground he left a dejected baroness Eva Von Blizen-Finecke, who had expected until the last minute to accompany him.

Bjorkvall, who purchased the Bellanca monoplane outright a few days ago, rejected pleas of the baroness to make the flight in a dramatic conference in a tiny office near where his plane waited.

A Swedish newspaper (Stockholm-Idningen) was the original backer of the flight for the pair. Due to criticism of the risk to be encountered by the baroness on the trip this late in the season, Bjorkvall's friends said, the plane withdrew its support. "I bought the plane and that's all there is to it," Bjorkvall said. "I wanted to make the flight solo, and I'm sorry I cannot take the baroness. The flight is my own."

The baroness, who had hoped to make the ocean journey, waved goodbye but expressed disappointment.

Bjorkvall's red and green monoplane has a wireless receiving set but no sending apparatus. He planned to obtain weather reports at regular periods.

The (Bellanca) plane carried 742 gallons of gasoline. It was stocked with roast chicken, bananas, tomato juice, a gallon jug of coffee and a gallon of water.

Bjorkvall also took emergency rations—tins of biscuits and food in capsules—sufficient to last 30 days. A life preserver was his only safety equipment in the event he should be forced down at sea.

Bjorkvall explained a Swedish newspaper had withdrawn its backing of the venture, and he had bought the plane.

"The flight is my own now," he said. "Therefore, I cannot take the baroness."

Baroness von Blizen-Finecke, who had arrived at the field at 5 a. m. with a vacuum bottle containing a quart of coffee, was frankly upset.

Bjorkvall, who had been at the field since 2 a. m., spent several hours in the seclusion of an automobile nearby as aides at Floyd Bennett field, Brooklyn, made the plane ready.

For two hours at the field the pilot and the 28-year-old adventuresome pilot met and at last finally they went to a nearby office for a 20-minute conference.

The baroness emerged dejected. "It looks as if I'm grounded," she said. "He has bought the plane and can't go."

"Of course I am jolly well going to fly the Atlantic sometime. I hope to do it solo with an automatic pilot but will not back out on me at the last minute."

"I can say no hard words but I am terribly sorry."

She had planned to pilot the plane part of the way.

The baroness said she had not known of the plans to take off today until a friend advised her at the Long Island club where she was staying. She donned tennis sneakers, gray slacks, a white shirtwaist, a sleeveless dark sweater and a sport coat, and hurried to the field in a limousine. She arrived bareheaded, somewhat breathlessly, in the chilly, clear dawn.

To her, the flight was to have been an adventurous career that has encompassed four years' flying and a 32-day motor car trip from Kenya Colony, East Africa, to Algiers, Morocco. Her husband, Baron von Blizen-Finecke, maintains a large estate in Kenya Colony.

Bjorkvall, unmarried, has 1,800 hours' flying experience. He has a flying license, planes and hangar at Aare, Sweden; made one flight to Africa and a record non-stop hop to London. His appearance is similar to that of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. The plane, 60 feet long and with a wing spread of 35 feet, is powered with a Pratt and Whitney wasp-junior motor developing 425 horse-power, and equipped with a radio compass, giro compass and artificial horizon.

Five Actions Against Ulster

In Supreme Court this morning five actions against the county of Ulster were continued before Justice Schirick and a jury. The plaintiffs, all of Roxbury, charge that on Christmas night in 1934 their Chevrolet car collided with a county truck which was en route up the Ashokan boulevard on its way to send the slippery hills.

Blanch Harrington, widow of Floyd Harrington, of Roxbury, testified that the car in which the young people were riding was owned by her husband.

Roger Harrington drove the car and with him were Betty V. Ames, Mildred Harrington and Douglas L. White.

Mr. White was the first of the occupants to take the stand. He testified that the party left Roxbury about 5 o'clock for Kingston and had proceeded to Phoenixia when they began to encounter ice on the pavement.

As they proceeded toward Kingston the condition became worse and near the Maverick road and the Ashokan boulevard junction they observed lights of a vehicle ahead of them. The witness said there were three lights and he could not tell what type of vehicle it was but the lights were brilliant and blinded him. As they approached the driver attempted to put on the brakes and at that time he saw the vehicle ahead was on its left of the roadway.

As the Harrington car proceeded down the grade the driver attempted to drive to his left to avoid the truck but as the truck and car were close together the truck was unable to change the course of the Chevrolet the two came together.

At the time the Chevrolet was being operated without chains the witness said.

White said when he saw an accident was about to happen he attempted to save the young lady in the rear with his shoulder but when the impact came he was thrown against the top and suffered injuries to his head, back, shoulder and leg and was also cut about the eye. All of the occupants were taken to the hospital in Kingston where they were treated and later that evening a car came down from Roxbury and took them home.

Burglary Epidemic In Ulster County

Some time Sunday night the O. & W. stations at High Falls and Hurley were entered and a small sum of money was taken from the High Falls station. The entrance was discovered Monday and reported to the sheriff and State Troopers. At High Falls the lock on the station was jammed and 135 pennies and 78 cents in American Railway Funds were missing. A brown suede jacket and a pair of working gloves were taken.

At Hurley the persons who entered the station apparently remained for the night for the floor was littered with peanut shells and rubbish in the morning. The lock at Hurley was forced and by reaching in with a pair of pliers the door was unlocked. In order to make themselves comfortable the occupants used up all of the oil in the stove in the building and littered the place with refuse. Sergeant Mulford of the O. & W. police discovered the burglary and with State Troopers and Sheriff Noyes is making an investigation.

For some time there has been an epidemic of station burglaries in the county. In southern Ulster there has been a number of similar affairs which have kept Sergeant Lockhart and his men busy. Recently Raymond Locke of Hicksville, L. I., was arrested at Maywood and charged with the burglaries in that locality. He is now serving a six months sentence and after that will be brought to Ulster county to face the local charges. Locke was sought by Sergeant Lockhart through the immense number of a car he drove. Apparently Locke is not the only one engaged in the station burglarizing work.

Woodstock "Wet" Vs. "Dry" Petition to Be Decided Soon

The time for the filing of memoranda in the Woodstock local option controversy expired today when the time limit set by Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick at special term last Friday came to an end. After hearing argument by counsel in the case at regular special term Friday Justice Schirick granted counsel until today to file additional memoranda.

The court will require a couple of days in which to review the memoranda submitted before deciding the matter. Judge Joseph M. Fowler of Fowler & Connelly appeared for the proponents of local option and Cashin & Ewig appeared for the residents of the town who are opposed to the submission of the question to the voters at the fall election. This group has been referred to as the "wets" since it is represented by those who conduct restaurants and places where beer and liquor is sold.

Those who seek the submission of the local option matter to the voters, and referred to as the "drys," are represented by a committee composed of Loretta Downer, Frank E. Shultz, Arthur Stone, while the committee which represents the opposition is Samuel Gregg, Harold E. Seism, Cushman Parker and David Reasoner.

The committee seeking the submission of the local option proposition is not necessarily opposed to license but seek to have the matter submitted to the voters this fall so that the people of the town may express their opinion as to whether the town shall be dry or continue with license. The matter comes under the A. B. C. law and is the first local option matter to be submitted in the county since the repeal of prohibition.

The committee representing the people who seek to have the matter submitted to the voters claim to have the proper number of signatures to the petition which was filed with the town clerk. On the other hand those opposed to the submission of the question to a vote claim many of the signatures are false and that when these names are stricken from the petition the petition must of necessity fail in its purpose because of a lack of a sufficient number of signatures.

Justice Schirick stated in court Friday that the question was one which required speedy determination in order that the Board of Elections, if required to, may have time to prepare the proper ballots and take other steps to have the vote taken on election day.

On the facts and questions of law submitted to the court will depend the question of whether additional oral testimony will be required by the court before making a final determination in the matter. Such decision will be announced within a few days.

V. F. W. Circus Gets Off to Good Start

The Yankee Doodle Circus, arranged by Major Scott for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, opened at the Municipal Auditorium for its week's run, Monday, and drew audiences in the afternoon and evening that presaged capacity houses for the rest of the show's engagement here.

"Yesterday our attendance was good," said Major Scott this morning. "Our performers felt more than pleased with the way the Kingston and Ulster county folks enjoyed the circus. I think we should do a big business in this city."

The major has been in Kingston more than a month, tuning up for the circus which features Captain William K. Shultz and Marion Knowlton in their animal acts that show trained horses, ponies, dogs, monkeys, a full-sized elephant and a cage full of real American lions.

Shultz is billed as one of the country's leading animal trainers and demonstrates that he deserves the name by putting his domestic and jungle pets through a routine of difficult tricks at the Auditorium.

Plans are under way to hold another "Jungle Wedding" similar to that staged by Shultz in the lions cage several years ago.

Drunken Driver Is Sentenced to 60 Days in Jail

Charles Robinson, 37, whose address is given as RD 3, Kingston and occupation as quarryman, was arrested Monday by Troopers Reilly and Elliott on charges of violating the motor vehicle law. He was arraigned before Justice Oscar Church of High Falls who fined him $30, or 30 days in jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated and imposed a fine of a like amount on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. In default of the fines he was committed to the county jail.

Robinson's arrest followed an accident near the Kowal gas station in Marlborough Sunday night in which the car of Henry Pekin of St. Remy, parked at that place, was struck by another car, which afterward went on without stopping. Witnesses gave the license number of the offending car and search was made Sunday night for the driver, but it was not until Monday afternoon that Troopers Reilly and Elliott succeeded in locating Robinson, who was at work in a quarry at Lapala.

Barmann's Brewery Leased; Option to Purchase if Desired

The Barmann brewery has been leased with an option to buy by Harold Gottfried of Hunter, and Lloyd J. Levy of Tannersville, a brother of Supreme Court Justice Aaron J. Levy of New York city. The deal was closed through the law offices of Cashin & Ewig on Broadway. Included in the lease is the brewery property, a large residence property, in addition to a number of buildings, barns, bottling plant, storage sheds and a 4 1/2 acre plot now used by the city as a public park. At the present time it is not contemplated to disturb the city's use of this plot as a playground. It is expected that about $15,000 will be spent in rehabilitating the plant, which will take about three months to complete. The plant has been idle for over a year.

Smoke Screen Material
Ilmenite is the mineral from which is manufactured titanium tetrachloride, used to produce smoke screens. Ilmenite is a by-product of the tin mines. Titanium tetrachloride is useful in both offensive and defensive military operations. Smoke screens may be laid with it either to prevent the enemy from seeing preparations for an attack, or to cover a retreat. A powerful acid, it may also be used to disperse bodies of troops. Dropped on them by low-flying airplanes, it soon eats up their clothes and burns their skin severely. The liquid is carried in tanks under the plane's wings and sprayed through nozzles. The rushing air tears the drops apart and the chemical reaction with the air soon vaporizes it.

The two jurors heard the case, deliberated three hours, then reported they were unable to agree.

Fish Story
Peru, Ind.—Glenn Fisher, grocer, called police, reported he heard burglars creeping around his kitchen. A squad of officers, carrying sawed-off shotguns, responded, broke through the kitchen door. Norman, Okla.—In this instance, the blame went to the professor's absent-minded secretary.

His secretary confessed forgetting to mail the invitations.

Teachers to Meet in New York Oct. 30

Selection of Madison Square Garden for the morning meeting of the 9,000 public school teachers of the Southeastern district of the New York State Teachers' Association, and the reduction of the group meetings from 26 to four mark radical changes for the convention to be held in New York city on Friday, October 30, according to District President Arthur C. Burnett of Newburgh.

The choice of Madison Square Garden for the general meeting was made because of its huge seating capacity and its central location in the hotel and theatre district of the city.

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York will open the convention at 9 o'clock. Among the highlights of the morning program will be the presentation of selections by large choral and instrumental groups from New York city high schools. A half-hour program of vocal numbers will be presented by John Gurney, bass-baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Margaret Speaks, well-known concert soprano and radio star.

Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam will deliver the principal address in the morning session. Dr. Oxnam, who recently resigned the presidency of De Pauw University, is a dynamic speaker on topics of present-day interest. In departing at times from conventional points of view, he projects problems that an audience of educators will find particularly timely and stimulating.

Rondout Presbyterians to Observe 103rd Anniversary

The Organization of the Downtown Church to be Celebrated the First Week in November with Appropriate Ceremonies—Brief History of Church.

The 103rd anniversary of the founding of the Rondout Presbyterian Church on November 1, 1833, will be appropriately celebrated by the church the first week in November. It is expected that the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Charles G. Ellis will be present at the ceremonies. Dr. Ellis, who served the church as its pastor for 30 years, is now pastor emeritus of the church. The Rev. James N. Armstrong is the present pastor.

Since the church was first organized more than 100 years ago it has been served by 13 pastors, and of that number but three are now living, the Rev. Dr. Samuel Banks Nelson, the Rev. Dr. Ellis, and the present pastor, the Rev. Mr. Armstrong. Dr. Ellis was pastor of the church from January 2, 1902 until May 17, 1931, and the Rev. Mr. Armstrong became pastor on May 12, 1932, and has served the church since.

The church was first organized in 1833 with a membership of 16. Previous to the organization of the church in 1829, Walter B. Crane and George W. Endicott held a consultation the outcome of which was the formation of the first Sunday school in Rondout. From that early beginning the Rondout Presbyterian Church came into existence a few years later.

The first church services were held in a schoolhouse, and at a meeting held there on July 9, 1833, Maurice Wust, Abram Haubrouck, John Ferguson, George W. Endicott, Edwin H. Bolton, Alexander Snyder and Walter B. Crane, were appointed to act as trustees and a building committee for the proposed new church. On August 13, 1833, articles of agreement were made and concluded between this committee and Paoli Brooks for the erection of a suitable building for a Presbyterian Church to be 56 feet long and 400 feet wide, with a seating capacity of about three hundred. Work was begun at once on the site now occupied by the Temple Emanuel on Abel street, and on October 8, of that year, the cornerstone was laid.

On June 19, 1934, the edifice was dedicated. The cost of the building without the tower, which was added later, was $5,000. In 1853 the building was enlarged and improved at a cost of $2,000.

For 40 years services were held in the church, and as the congregation grew in numbers the decision was finally reached to erect a larger church, and a building committee was appointed consisting of Edward Tompkins, David B. Abbey, Charles Bray, Walter B. Crane, Abel A. Crosby, Roland Otis, James McCausland and the Rev. Edward D. Leary, the pastor.

Lawrence B. Valk of New York city was the architect for the proposed church and a contract to erect it was awarded to Henry W. Otis, mason, and Henry W. Falen, carpenter, both of this city. The estimated cost of the building was $44,000, but the actual cost, owing to some changes in the plan was $51,280.

Since that time many improvements have been made to the church property.

Those who served as pastor of this historic church were: John Mason, William Kelley, James M. Sayre, John H. Carle, Benjamin T. Phillips, William Irvin, Edward D. Leary, Isaac Clark, Irving Magee, Cornelius S. Stowitts, Samuel Banks Nelson, Charles G. Ellis and the present pastor, James N. Armstrong, Jr.

Central Trustees Met at Highland

Highland, Oct. 6.—No official report of the treasurer of the Central school district was given at the meeting of the trustees Friday evening but it was understood that there was between $700 and $900 in the treasury. A. W. Lent said he knew the tax was two mills lower than last year. The collector had his notices posted and was receiving the tax this month. William H. Maynard reported for the Riverside school that the building had been scraped and two coats of paint applied and the chimney relaid. C. I. Richards said that Henry Mackey was the new janitor for the Wilkows corner school and that wood would be needed for fires. When Philip T. Schantz reported the need of swings at the Elting's corner school, Mr. Maynard said the same were needed at Riverside, and Mr. Schantz said better than they now possessed. No action was taken on these needs of the pupils. It was reported that some work had been done at Highland Inn on painting floors and repairs to the wall paper.

A letter of thanks was received from Highland Hose Company in return for the use of the grounds at Oakes on boat race day and for the use of the P. T. A. athletic field for ball games during the summer. Roger Swartz of Kingston wrote a letter upon the opening of his duties as director of the orchestra. He reported that the pianos in the school had been tuned in June but that two of the three in the school were of no value at all and he had located one for the price of $40 delivered, which was a good value. By motion of Mr. Schantz and Mr. Maynard it was voted to purchase the instrument. It was decided to have the students in the shop department take apart the two old pianos and make use of the wood as needed. Mr. Campbell reported that the school calendar was now completed. There are four students from the town of Marlborough who are completing their courses at Highland since the Marlborough school does not offer the same courses and the question of tuition came up. One student is in homemaking, two in commercial and one advanced art. The Marlborough district pays the transportation and by motion it was voted to notify the school district in Marlborough that the tuition must be paid by them.

The senior class asked the use of the gymnasium for October 21 for the serving of a spaghetti supper under the supervision of Misses Ruth Goldsmith and Frances Williams. Mr. Burke, athletic director asked for the use of buses for four football games held out of town and this was granted. It was commented that a horseback rider had been using the sidewalks and Officer Clark was to be notified if the offender again used the walks.

Dr. Victor Salvatore was present and asked for suggestions as to the dental work to be done by himself and the dental hygienist, Miss Fagan. He expected the start to be made in the lower grades with the regular educational system of dentistry. He was informed that the amount allowed in the budget was $200 and that any pupils in need of dental work, and unable to pay for the same would be selected by the school nurse, Mrs. Richards. This having been a resolution adopted at a meeting earlier in the year. He asked how much work was he supposed to give a pupil when sent by a teacher following an accident on the school property. He was told that only first aid was allowed and that pupils must be sent from the principal.

Mr. Campbell said there was a need for a standardized test for English and the necessary requirements were left for the book committee and Mr. Campbell. All members of the board were present with Mrs. J. D. Rose presiding.

HOME COURSE IN DANCING

The ease and grace with which you dance depends in a large measure on the simple fundamentals of position, leading and following.

Leading dancing masters endorse the position of the pair in the illustration. Begin with good position and you'll not have faults to correct.

And while you are learning fascinating new steps in dancing take care to learn the subtle difference between leading and following. The man indicates the lead by a definite pressure with the right hand and arm, except when walking forward, when it is given with the body.

The girl should be careful to let the man indicate the lead. She must not anticipate. Resisting slightly does not cause her to be heavy. Dancers are only heavy when they lose perfect balance in their steps.

Learn your fundamentals and you will never be one of those dancers with the "backward bends", the "dis-away head tilt".

If you want to learn to have as much style as the pair in the picture—to learn how to move through your steps with grace and ease, send for our 40-page booklet, SOCIAL DANCING SELF-TAUGHT. Diagrams and easy instructions for all the modern dances. The fox-trot, waltz, tango, dance-walk and the rhumba. Prepared by a famous dancing teacher.

Send 15c for our booklet, SOCIAL DANCING SELF-TAUGHT, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 149 West 18th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Vogt Helps 'Em Vote Says Boss, Machine Moves Into Place

Zeke Boss, foreman of the city traffic paint gang, who has an eye for headlines as well as the white one that keep motorists on the right side of the road, today had what he called a "honey".

"Vogt helps 'em vote," said Zeke to a reporter. "How's that, one? It's a honey, eh?"

He thought up the headline as he told about Edward "Dutch" Vogt delivering the voting machines yesterday to the various polling places in preparation for registration days, Friday and Saturday.

"It's all right to make a story about it, if you have time. Everybody else, Nate Palsi, Chester Hudson, Al Thomas and all the rest of the boys around the municipal headquarters get in the news, so why not Vogt?"

"Sure, why not Vogt?" interrupted the reporter. "Why not vote for Landon?"

"What is this act?" asked Zeke. "But, if you want to put it that way, don't forget the rest of the ticket—Goodwin, Bleakley, Wicks, Conway, Traver, Simpson, and Murray," he continued.

"Know any new knock knock?" queried the scribe.

"Thanks for the reminder," he said. "I almost forgot Knox."

"And while you're giving 'Dutch' Vogt his share of the publicity, don't forget to get in about registration days. They are Friday and Saturday and the polls will be open from 10 to 10."

"Another thing, if you want your story to have a real punch, just say that the voting machine delivery truck was driven by Johnny Carpio, the ex-Hudson valley lightweight champ who now tips the scales at 175. This'll add weight to the thing, too."

"Drop around again some time for another interview and I'll give you Chet Hudson's formula for the red oil we use in the red lamps."

Ember and Rogation Days are certain periods of the year devoted to prayer and fasting.

Ulster Bar Tribute to Deceased Members

Resolutions in tribute to the late Frank W. Brooks and E. E. Oughel-tree, two prominent members of the Ulster County Bar Association, will be presented to the Supreme Court on October 15, at 2 o'clock. That time was set Monday by Justice Harry E. Schrick at the request of Hon. George F. Kaufman, representing the Ulster County Bar.

Mr. Kaufman at the opening of the October trial term stated to the court since the last term of Supreme Court in this county the bar had suffered the loss of two prominent members and he requested the court to set some time in the future when the members of the bar might present resolutions and also that members who so desired might make remarks of tribute. In requesting the court to set some time, Mr. Kaufman suggested that the time be set sufficiently far in advance that the secretary of the Bar Association might have an opportunity to notify the out-of-town members who might desire to attend the session and pay tribute to their departed fellow lawyers.

Asking that a slice of the better broadcasting channels be set aside for educational institutions, advocates of "education by radio" complained yesterday that the commission had allowed large commercial broadcasters to dominate the airways.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William F. Bleakley, of Yonkers, Republican candidate for governor, submitted his resignation from the bench today in a 17-word letter to Secretary of State Edward J. Flynn.

"I hereby tender my resignation as justice of the Supreme Court, to take effect upon its receipt," the letter said.

The letter was not actually delivered to Secretary Flynn, who was not in the city, but was turned over to Miss Grace M. Reary, deputy secretary of state. The resignation takes effect automatically.

Justice Bleakley's resignation came as he was heading upstate for a campaign swing into western New York.

He has been a judge for 19 years.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 6 (AP)—State officials prepared for a rush of independent nomination petitions today as the deadline for filing approached. No petitions can be received after midnight.

Whether Father Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice, the Union party and the new American Labor party will file petitions were questions to which leaders of the major parties awaited answers.

Some said the distribution of thousands of votes in the state and national election next month would be affected by the action of these groups.

Freshman Ripple Real Series Star

Rolling Catch of Red Rolfe's Low Line Drive Yesterday the Most Sensational in Ball History—Picked up by Terry After Scouts Let Him Slip by.

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio won acclaim as the greatest major league rookie of 1936 but the thousands who have watched the melodramatic World Series battles aren't so sure he has anything over Jim Ripple, star Giant freshman, at least for the time being.

With a team that has been stumbling along, Ripple actually has surpassed the World Series exploits of the young Italian from the Golden Gate, today's figures reveal. At bat, he has smashed out four hits in 12 chances and driven in three runs. DiMaggio has hit safely six times out of 20 and batted in two runs.

More than that, Ripple has come through almost every time in a pinch, whereas DiMaggio has failed, twice hitting into double plays when one run meant a ball game.

Both have turned in some fielding masterpieces, but the gems were produced by Ripple with two tumbling, shoestring catches that cheated the Yankees out of sure hits. His leaping, rolling catch yesterday on Red Rolfe's low line drive was one of the most spectacular in World Series history.

Hard work made a strong boy, a hard hitter, out of Ripple. At 13, he was forced to work for a living. He got a job in a lumber camp.

"That worked myself out," he explained. Ripple, like DiMaggio, has powerful wrists and seldom takes a full cut at the ball.

At Montreal, he went great guns and four big league scouts rushed up there to look him over. But on two occasions, with the big league ivory spics sitting in the stands, he hurt himself. In 1935, his luck changed. Terry scouted him personally and bought him.

Ripple no longer is a major league ripple. He's a tidal wave.

LOU LOSES IN DIVE FOR HOME PLATE

Lou Gehrig, mighty swatter for the Yanks, took the count at home plate from Lnpue Plirman in the second inning of the fifth world series meeting at Yankee Stadium. He was tagged by Gus Mancuso on a lightning double play started by Bill Dickey, when his weak roller was tossed by Hal Schumacher to Terry, who relayed it from first to home to catch the big Yankee slugger. Selkirk homered on the next play, but the bases were empty. (Associated Press Photo)

YANKEE POWER TURNED ON, SELKIRK HOMERS

"Twink" Selkirk slammed a home run into the right field stands in the second inning of the fifth game of the world series at Yankee Stadium. It was his second circuit clout of the series. The Yankee slugger is shown crossing the plate after making the tour of bases. None was on at the time. (Associated Press Photo)

McLarnin Trims Canzoneri in Ten, Barney Ross Next

New York, Oct. 6 (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, the clothing Celt who was ready to hang up his gloves and quit the ring little more than a year ago, found himself very much in the fight picture again today after giving a shellacking to pug-nosed little Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight king.

McLarnin turned the tables on Canzoneri last night at Madison Square Garden before a crowd of 11,422 cash customers who took time off from the World Series arguments to see the two former title holders go ten slashing rounds. Last May Tony gave Jimmy a ten-round licking.

McLarnin carried off the unanimous decision after left-handing Canzoneri into bloody submission. Tony survived a three-second knockdown in the second round, when he was flattened by a straight right to the chin. He finished gamely despite cashes around both eyes, his nose and mouth. McLarnin outpointed his rival in every round except the first and tenth, which Tony won, and the fourth, which was even.

Ringside critics were unanimous in rating McLarnin's performance his best here in at least two years, despite the fact his victim lacked anything like the speedy aggressiveness of his best day.

"There's nothing like married life to keep a fellow attending to business," cried McLarnin.

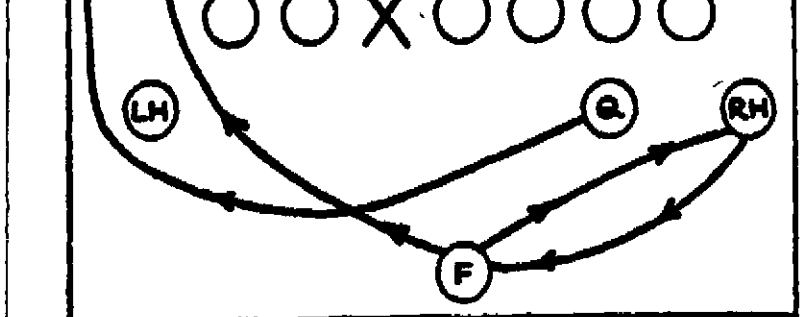

The Garden's energetic promoter, Jimmy Johnston, lost no time starting negotiations for a fourth McLarnin-Ross fight to be held this winter. They agreed three outdoor battles for the welterweight crown, splitting two decisions in 1934 and fighting the rubber match in 1935, with Ross the victor.

WINGBACKS by TINY THORNHILL

(Last in a series of 12 daily articles prepared by the coach of Stanford's Rose Bowl champions in collaboration with Russ Newland, Associated Press sports writer.)

A fairly consistent ground-gaining play used by Stanford football teams is the lateral pass from a reverse.

On this play the backfield is lined up in double wing formation, with unbalanced line, strong on the right side. The ball goes to the fullback who starts for his right end. He hands the ball to the right half who reverses the field, skirting left end. Meanwhile the quarterback, who also has reversed the field, first inside and then outside the line of flight taken by the right half, gets in position to take the lateral.

If the left half has taken care of his blocking assignment, the play occasionally nets an appreciable gain.

Most Stanford passes start like running plays. This applies to forward as well as to lateral passes. Our passes usually are short. We have plenty of long passes but they are not often used.

Our passers are coached to make their throws from about six yards behind the line. Most passers on other teams go farther back. The 6-yard distance fits in with our type of plays.

Church Basketball League Officers

The Church Basketball League held its first meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Monday and elected the following officers: President, Jansen Fowler; vice president, Ken Slater; secretary-treasurer, Ellsworth Haines.

There was a fine representation of managers of the teams participating last year present at the meeting. This year the loop will function with eight teams Ponchocks Congregational rejoined the league this year. The league decided to open the season on Monday night, November 2. Each team will play a practice game October 21. All games will be played on the "Y" court.

Port Ewen will defend its title against a field consisting of Presbyterians, Clinton Avenue M. E. First Dutch, Redeemers, Trinity M. E., Comforters and Congregational. Plans were discussed to keep interest in the league high throughout the season. The church loop is the only organized basketball league in the city since the return of American League pro ball.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Oct. 6.—Both morning and afternoon services were held here Sunday at the Community Baptist Church. Both were well attended. William Bender, who preaches the plain and simple old fashioned gospel, presented a deeply inspiring message at the morning service. His scripture lesson was read from the twelfth chapter of Romans and the sermon text was derived from portions of verses one and two of chapter one. Miss Helen Thompson of Ellenville was organist. The choir sang an offertory selection, "The Church in the Wilderness". The Rev. J. R. Vaughn, of Sag Harbor, who is making a good will preaching tour, occupied his former pulpit for the afternoon gathering. Mr. Vaughn was accompanied by R. B. Longyear, Clinton Kohler and Walter Hamilton. He having addressed the congregation in Chichester during the morning. This was Pastor Vaughn's first local appearance in the pulpit since his successful occupancy from 1917 to 1919. He spoke with much show of feeling as he recalled events and of the missing loyal supporters, who during the intervening years have passed on to the realm eternal. Several members of the congregation also went to Phoenixia Sunday evening where the Rev. Mr. Vaughn addressed the congregation at the Baptist Church and administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Approximately 150 Rebekah members, some ninety odd of whom were visitors from various lodges, attended the annual installation held Thursday evening at Olive Rebekah Lodge No. 470. District Deputy Margaret Terwilliger and staff were the installing officers. A banquet was served after the meeting in connection with a much enjoyed social program.

Charles H. Weldner, local scoutmaster, and son, Charles Weldner, Jr., Donald Bishop, assistant scoutmaster, Kenneth Briggs, Albert Nunn, Walter Schait of Ithaca and Robert Winkler enjoyed a hiking trip by the way of Winnisook Lodge, Newburgh creek to Table Mountain. The group started Saturday night at Table Mountain and started again on their way Sunday morning to Peekamoose mountain, then to Peekamoose Lodge and came out through Watson Hollow and thence back to West Shokan by the way of the Peekamoose Mountain trail. The trip was estimated to be around 20 miles. The weather was ideal and proved to be very invigorating and much enjoyed by all.

Miss Helen Thompson spent Sunday here at the home of her mother, Mrs. Bertha Thompson.

Bernard Dwyer of the CCC camp at Peekskill spent the week-end here with his father and brother, Charles. Judge and Mrs. Henry Winchell were entertained Saturday on their second annual World Series dinner visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Davis and Mrs. Chase Davis at West Shokan Heights.

Herbert Hyde of New York city spent his week-end pleasantly here with his wife and son, Warren.

Town Clerk Reginald E. Davis has just received a supply of special deer licenses which hunters may obtain at any time at the clerk's office in Olive Bridge. Early reports from observers agree that deer sign is plentiful with prospects for a successful hunting season in November. Mr. Davis states that already there have been numerous inquiries for the required special deer license.

The following very appetizing menu is listed by the Samsonville Ladies' Aid for their annual hot chicken supper which will be held in the church hall Friday evening, October 9: Creamed chicken, mashed potatoes, noodles and gravy, green peas, cabbage salad, pickles, jelly, cake, coffee and tea. Ice cream will be on sale.

William Bender and son, William, of Metacombas assisted E. C. Davis with concrete floor work on Friday. Rye and buckwheat threshing was in order on Monday at Maple Dell Farm. The buckwheat customarily cured in the field was run through the threshers after the rye crop stored in the barn at the time of harvest had been similarly handled. Several neighbors, also William Bender, assisted with the day's operation.

Mrs. Nettie Jones, veteran president of the West Shokan Baptist Ladies' Aid, has called a get-together meeting of the members to be held at the church basement on Wednesday afternoon of this week. At this time plans will be made for work programs and social functions in keeping with the coming fall and winter season. The trustees of the church will also assemble and determine upon needed repairs to be made to the parsonage roof and otherwise about the church property.

Miss Mickey Crawford and friend, Miss Virginia Krom, of Olive Bridge, spent the week-end on a bus trip to New York city.

Prof. R. B. Longyear of Phoenixia was a supper guest Sunday evening with the Davis family at West Shokan Heights.

Nicholas Winkler is doing some elder making, however, the crop of elder berries is rather deficient as compared to normal seasons.

Well wishes and many happy returns of the day are bestowed from a host of friends upon Mr. and Mrs. Justus North of Shokan, who entertained Saturday evening upon the anniversary of their happy wedding day, 14 years ago. Both Mr. and Mrs. North spent their childhood in West Shokan.

Chinese Funerals Gay
The age-old desire of the Chinese to avoid despondency, sadness and even solemnity is typified in their funerals. Such services are always accompanied by as much gaiety, noise and music as weddings. As a matter of fact, few Chinese can tell a funeral from a wedding procession until they are close enough to see whether it contains a cauldron or a wedding throne. Collier's Weekly.

TIPS ON CONTRACT

By TOM O'NEILL
A Long Minor

Great is the strength of a long suit with the tops when the declarer is playing a game contract at no trump. Six or seven cold tricks from one suit at times will prompt a partnership to commit itself to a no trump game contract, especially against vulnerable opponents, when the contract can be defeated by the right opening. For example:

NORTH		EAST
♠ 7 4 3		♠ J 6 2
♥ 8 5 3		♥ K J 7 4
♦ A 7		♦ K J 5 3
♣ 9 6		♣ A 4
WEST		SOUTH
♠ A Q 9 5		♠ J 6 2
♥ A Q 3		♥ K J 7 4
♦ 10 8		♦ K J 5 3
♣ 10 7 4		♣ A 4

South bid a club vulnerable West naturally passed. Most players with the North cards would bid a no trump, but this North conceived the idea of sounding out how good the club suit was. He made a one-over one force of one spade.

Had East made a risky vulnerable overcall of two diamonds and had North and South continued on to any game contract, West surely would have doubled. But East, having been burned several times by vulnerable overcalls with such hands passed.

South suddenly developed ideas like North. Having the spade king as a possible reentry if needed, he leaped to three clubs. North bid three no trump, the contract.

East opened his fourth best diamond, hoping that West could help set up the suit, and that his heart king would permit him to get in and set the contract. Happy North won the first trick with the diamond queen, then took seven club tricks and the diamond ace for his three no trump.

Any opening but the diamond would have defeated the contract. With a heart opening the defense can take four heart and three spade tricks before the declarer can set control. With a club opening the most the declarer can do is to win eight tricks.

East could hardly be blamed for not leading away from his heart king. The fourth diamond ordinarily would seem to be his best opening. Nor was his passing to be criticized. It was just one of those hands which venture some bidders get away with at times.

High School News

On Thursday, October 22, James Hendrickson and Claire Bruce with their company will present two plays in the high school auditorium. "Julius Caesar" at 3 p. m., and "Macbeth" at 8.15 p. m. These plays will be of great interest to every student of the English, history and Latin classes.

Mr. Hendrickson and Miss Bruce have distinguished themselves as two of the leading exponents of the classic drama on the American stage. They are now on their tenth annual tour, presenting exquisitely staged productions of the Shakespearean plays. This company has on previous tours traveled from coast to coast, and has been met with conspicuous success in some of the principal educational institutions of this country.

The company of 10 actors has been chosen with utmost care, and its personnel remains the same, for the most part, from year to year. This is undoubtedly an important reason for the company's smooth-running performances. Mr. Hendrickson and Miss Bruce have had a sound apprenticeship in the training and interpretation of Shakespearean plays. Both of them have appeared on the Broadway stage in modern plays, and also in the companies of Robert B. Mantell and Fritz Leiber. The aim of this company is to charge their productions with a freshness and vitality. They do not hesitate to discard worn-out, musty traditions. Appropriate music has been arranged for each play. The high school is fortunate in securing such vivid and effective presentations of "Julius Caesar" and "Macbeth" for such a novel price.

Scholarships

Swarthmore College is announcing open scholarships for women for the year beginning September, 1937. No written examinations are required of the students selected. There are three of these scholarships available for the oncoming freshman class of next year. The Delaware Lackawanna and Western Coal Company is awarding scholarship for boys, in their five thousand dollar prize contest. The first prize will be a four year tuition scholarship to any college of the winner's choice. There are a number of lesser awards concerning education. All boys who are interested should take up the matter with the principal of the high school as soon as possible.

There are five university scholarships offered to each assembly district. The candidates must have filled the requirements for the Regents College Entrance Diploma.

It is available for any approved college in New York State. Its value is $100 per year for four years for both boys and girls.

Each year the Kingston College Women's Club awards a scholarship of $100 to the girl who is efficient in scholarship, cooperation, citizenship, and service.

This list of scholarships is published in order to aid those who must arrange their class schedules so as to meet the requirements.

The Central Hudson H-Y Council held its annual officers' conference at Glenelg Lake Park during the week-end of September 18, 19, 20. The councilors were divided into discussion groups for the study of club problems. The members of the conference held a ceremony pledging the fellowship of his club to the rest of the clubs throughout the world.

Roland Mills Boy's Work Secretary of Ellizabeth, N. J., presented an interesting talk about the Olympic games in Germany. He also lectured upon war and peace. Immediately after Mr. Mills' lecture, a round-table discussion was held. Kingston's H-Y was represented by 10 high school students, and also several faculty members. This conference is a national event and is observed each year by H-Y Clubs in all states. At this time the clubs carry on several projects and drives to admit new members.

On Friday, October 2, Mr. Wright of the Executive Boy Scouts addressed the upper-classmen on the subject "School Spirit." His speech was so forceful and direct that it was met with great enthusiasm by the students. Directly following the talk rousing cheers were given for the foot-ball team.
